Freight Handlers Likely to Quit in Chicago.There is a Feeling of General Unrest in the Great Industrial World.Grave Danger of Other Unions
Quitting Work in Sympathy
With Freight Handlers,
Should They Quit.

Omaha, July 1.—In accordance with a prearranged plan, a formal order was issued by Vice President T. L. Wilson of the International Association of Machinists for a general strike of the Union Pacific machinists. Their demand is for an increase of 10 per cent in wages and that the company abandon the recently adopted piece-work system. The order was generally obeyed. Already the number of men at work had been greatly depleted by the closing down of shops at Omaha, Cheyenne, Wyo., North Platte, Neb., and Armstrong, Kan., and the curtailment of work at a number of small shops by the company. The machinists, however, include as strikers the entire regular force of all these shops, and have begun paying strike benefits to all of their members who were already employed before the closing down of the shops. Vice President Wilson said these benefits would be paid to nearly 1,500 men. To this number 200 holler-makers are added, making the total number affected 1,700.

President Kennedy of the local organization of boiler-makers said that there were but three boiler-makers at work on the entire system. It is apparent that train and engine men will not be drawn into the strike. Leaders of these branches of the service say it is not their fight, and that no thought has been given to the question of a sympathetic strike.

Ten Thousand May Quit.

Chicago, July 1.—Unless the general managers of the railroads reverse their announced decision in regard to a new scale of wages, 10,000 freight handlers will in all probability quit work in all the railroad warehouses and freight sheds in Chicago. If the freight handlers strike it is highly probable that other unions will be drawn into the struggle through sympathy. Officers of all the railroads replied to the demand of the freight handlers for more wages. The answers were almost uniform, each of the companies submitting an amended scale of wages to go into effect after three months. The men refused to consider the concessions of the railroads and declare that unless they are granted better terms they will quit work. From the railroads it was learned that all have determined not to make any further concessions.

Mitchell's Mission.

Chicago, July 1.—President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers of America held a conference with President Russell of the Illinois Mine Workers' union and President Reese of the Iowa Miners' union. Mr. Mitchell said the conference concerned only the miners of Illinois and Iowa and had no connection with the strike in the anthracite fields of Pennsylvania. President Mitchell also held a conference with Commissioner Herman Just of the Illinois Coal Operators' association and adjusted several differences between the Illinois operators and miners. Regarding the report that a movement had been started to settle the anthracite coal strike, President Mitchell claimed to know nothing.

After the Boycotters.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., July 1.—The Citizens' alliance of Wilkes-Barre has offered rewards aggregating $5,000 for the arrest and conviction of all persons engaged in boycotting, hanging effigies and other criminal acts of intimidation prejudicial to the rights of American freedom. A reward of $1,000 has been offered for the arrest and conviction of any one who enters into a conspiracy to boycott any individual, firm or corporation, or for hanging anybody in effigy $500 reward will be paid. At strike headquarters it was claimed that the offering of such large rewards will cause irresponsible detectives to arrest innocent people in the hope of securing rewards.

Chicago Stock Markets.

Chicago, July 1.—Cattle 4,000 steady and higher; hogs 18,000, steady and higher; sheep 13,000, steady.

Columbus, O., July 1.—Governor Nash has refused to revoke the requisition for William M. Hahn's extradition to New York, where he is wanted to answer to the charge of grand larceny. Attorneys disagree as to whether Hahn can successfully fight extradition in the courts of Richland county. His representatives claim that he still has recourse, while F. P. Garvan, assistant district attorney of New York, is confident that he may be taken at once to New York. Governor Nash directly charged Hahn's friends with attempting to trifle with the chief executive of the state.

Rev. Rupert, of St. John's Church, Given a Reception.

Lima to Lose a Company Which Goes to Findlay Where a Stock Company Gives it Some Inducement.

One year ago yesterday Rev. F. G. Rupert came here from Newark and organized St. John's church which is now one of the flourishing congregations of south Lima. In establishing the parish building and church organ, the school and instituting various houses and societies, Rev. Rupert has accomplished on a certain amount of work for which his large congregation is thankful and deeply appreciative. In order to express some degree of their appreciation of his services, the members of the congregation arranged a reception and surprise which occurred at St. John's hall last night. While the people were gathering in the auditorium a volley of the hymn of the church, "The Church is the Body of Christ," was sung. Rev. Rupert in his address congratulated the members of the church and the city of Lima for the success of the church. He said that he was glad to be here and to be able to do some good for the people. WHAT IS THE NAME OF THE FUND WHICH RECEIVES THE SLOT MACHINE REVENUE?

The question as to why there is no public record upon the books of the city of Lima of receipts from the royalty paid for the privilege of running a lot of slot machines in this city remains unanswered.

Is it possible that those who have in management the public affairs of Lima are ashamed of the fact that by pursuing this course they are openly licensing gambling in this city? That they are sanctioning the corrupting of the morals of the youth of the city for the sake of a few paltry dollars?

Does anyone presume to deny that the man who has the privilege of running the slot machines pays a handsome bonus for so doing?

A story is told by a very reputable resident of Lima that in a recent conversation with a man who owned a similar privilege in an adjacent town, he said that he at one time proposed to pay to the powers that then prevailed in Lima the sum of $250 per month if he might be allowed to operate all the machines he could place in Lima for twelve months. This would have brought into the source where this revenue would go the tidy sum of $3000 per year.

But the powers rejected the proposal. There were at that time no slot machines allowed in this city. In a few weeks afterward a perfect flood of slot machines appeared simultaneously in different places in the city and have been running constantly since. The man who had offered the sum of $250 per month goes on to state that the man who eventually brought the machines into Lima, paid a royalty of $400 a month, or $4800 per year for the privilege of running the machines in this city.

This is quite a goodly sum of money, and it all comes out of the pockets of those who gamble on the seductive slot machine. And it only represents a fraction of the money which goes into the capacious maw of this gambling device. After paying the percentage to the city a certain percentage goes to the various men in whose places the slot machines are played, and the remainder into the pocket of the shrewd manipulator of the scheme.

Of course what is paid for the privilege is public money. But where is it entered upon the city's cost book? How does it reach the public exchequer?

What is the name of the fund into which it is placed, and for what purpose is it disbursed?

Railway Appointment.

Cleveland, July 1.—F. H. Reeves, auditor of the Cleveland, Akron and Columbus railway, has been appointed auditor of the Akron and Barberton Belt Railroad company, with offices at Barberton, O. He will remain in Cleveland, however, as auditor of the first named road.

More Murderers Killed.

Manilla, July 1.—Two of the Moros who murdered Private Lewis have been killed while resisting arrest. Frank Adia Adma promised Colonel Frank D. Baldwin of the Twenty-seventh infantry, who is in Mindanao, that he would deliver the murderers of Lewis when they were captured. The mutilated bodies of the two Moros were, consequently, brought into the American camp suspended from poles.

Trial Race.

Bridgeport, Conn., July 1.—In the first trials of the Bridgeport Yacht club to select a challenger for the Sea-Scaphia cup, the Teumseh won the first race and the Massachusetts won the other two.

SUSPECT IN JAIL.

Mysterious Drowning of a Young Couple and the Sequel.

New York, July 1.—Louis Disbrow, for whom a warrant was issued by the authorities of Suffolk county, L. I., in connection with the deaths by drowning of Sarah Lawrence and Clarence Foster, is now in jail at River Hic, L. I. The drowning of the two young people has been a mystery which the county officials have for weeks been trying to clear up. All that was positively known was that the two, with Disbrow, had spent the greater part of the night at resorts in the eastern end of Long Island. There were stories told of a carouse. Foster and the girl dropped out of sight. Disbrow went to his home at Good Ground and then disappeared, and three days later the bodies of Foster and the Lawrence girl were found floating in the bay.

Strike on Canadian Northern.

Winnipeg, July 1.—A strike of 2,000 employees was inaugurated on the Canadian Northern railway system, caused by the refusal of the management to consider schedules of wages presented by the shopmen of the United Brotherhood of Railway Employees. The workers affected are freight clerks, freight handlers, trackmen, switchmen, stationery engineers and patternmakers; car men, including every department; washout men, engine water-burn, coal-heaters, wipers and washout helpers, bridge and building department men. The engineers, firemen, conductors and brakemen are still at work, so that the system is not yet tied up.

Jessie Wants a New Trial.

El Dorado, Kan., July 1.—The attorney for Jessie Morrison, who Saturday was found guilty of murder in the second degree for the death of Mrs. Olin Castle, filed a motion for a new trial. One of the principal reasons for asking a new trial is that a change of venue had been refused. Judge Aikman set the time for hearing the motion for next Monday, when, it is believed, the motion will be overruled and Miss Morrison formally sentenced. Under the verdict her punishment can be made from 10 years to life imprisonment.

Village Destroyed.

ROYALLY

The Boosters were Entertained

By the Van Wert Elks in That City Last Night.

After a Street Parade the Members were Served With a Banquet— Boosters Go to Delphos Tomorrow Night.

The Elks' carnival boosting committee and "rube" band went to Van Wert last evening, leaving here over the Pennsylvania road at 5:20 o'clock. They were met at the depot in Van Wert by the members of the order residing in that city and after a street parade and concert that attracted the attention of several hundred people, the Van Wert members escorted the Lima crowd to a hall where a magnificent banquet awaited them. The guests were taken completely by surprise and to say that they enjoyed and appreciated the hospitality of the Van Wert members does not half express the unanimous sentiment. The banquet was followed by an informal social session, such as only the Elks can hold, and at 8:30 the Lima party departed for home.

Tomorrow evening the members of the boosting committee, accompanied by many members of the lodge, will go to Delphos to boost the carnival which opens next Monday.

INCREASE SHOWN

In Statistics of Wells Completed, New Production in Ohio During June.

During the month of June the Buckeye oil fields showed continuous activity, and according to the statistics of wells completed and new production, show a gratifying increase over the figures for the previous month.

The number of wells completed in the entire Ohio field was 359, which, when compared with 300 as the number completed during the month of May, indicates an increase of 59. With this increase of 59 in wells, there was a gain of new production over May amounting to 952 bbls. and there were 25 more dry holes.

The number of wells completed in Ohio is the greatest since April 1900, when there were 495 new wells and the production for June is the largest since September, 1901.

The Largest Gains.

In June the list of counties which recorded largest gains in new wells and production is altogether different from May, inasmuch as Van Wert county, which headed the list last month, is relegated to the rear, and Hancock county first place, in amount of production gained, though the largest number of new wells is found in Wood county.

Wood is Busy.

Wood county has the largest number of new wells to report for June of any county in the Buckeye field. It totalled 81 or a gain of 35 over the figures for May. The 81 wells completed a production of 885 bbls. compared with 576 for the 50 wells completed the previous month, thus showing a gain of 309 barrels in new production. There were 17 dry holes in the county. In May the new wells showed an average production of 54 bbls. while in June this has been increased to more than 100, and while the county showed a decrease in May of 100 barrels from the figures for April, this is more than made up and the amount gained is more.

The Record of Hancock.

Hancock county, which showed the largest gain in May, as first place, and the April report came out with a gain over the end of the month, and shows 64 wells completed with a production of 1,011 barrels, a gain of 8 in new wells and 107 barrels in production over the figures for May.

The new wells had an average production of only 17 barrels, whereas in June this is increased to almost 21 barrels, and there were only 10 dry holes. Some of the gain in production may be accounted for on wells drilled by the state and may not be holding up as well as the present one, but the figures are generally quoted at about what the month is worth at the end of the month.

Allen's Big Production.

Allen county can be regarded as an activity district, holding up in new production of a gratifying rate, while the number of new wells is not much larger than in the previous month. There were no wells completed during June, with a production amounting to 1,007 barrels, which was an increase of 900 barrels and 188 barrels in output. Last month the new wells showed an average daily production of about 17 bbls. and in June this would be increased but little, the average being not quite 17 1/2. There were only 4 dry holes encountered during the month. Allen is holding its position in a manner which would indicate that it will be found near the top for some time to come.

The Smaller Gains.

Sandusky county has a total of 20 wells completed and a production of 216 barrels, with 1 dry hole; this is a gain over May of 1 in wells completed and of 89 barrels in new production, being 14% for June as compared with 11% for May.

Merger county showed large gains in May, but its record for June is not so flattering, though it is keeping up a steady production and there is a large number of new wells under way. In June there were 23 wells completed and the new production amounted to 691 barrels, thus showing a gain of 2 in wells and of 81 barrels in new production, while the dry holes were a stand-off at 1. The average of production from each well was not quite 30 barrels in June, which was a loss of about 3 barrels on the average from May and April.

In Van Wert county, the number of wells completed was 66, and the new production amounted to 826 barrels, an increase of 49 in new wells and of only 25 barrels in output. An idea as to the difference can be obtained from the number of dry holes, which was 18 in June against 4 in the month previous. While the eastern and western sections of Van Wert have been unusually active during June, the portion known as the Ohio City field can be held responsible for the county's extra large number of dry holes, and consequent falling off in the average of production. The wells completed during June throughout the entire county will average up a production of 12 1/2 barrels, while in May the new ones had an average of 16 1/2. A good per centage of the dry holes recorded were located in the western portion of the field, noticeably in Liberty township, which is the center of the Ohio City flurry.

Of the Report Which the Sub-Committee Made

To the General Committee on the Smead Foundry

Details Furnished by Colonel Smead Which Show the Great Advantage of the Plant They Propose Establishing in Lima.

To Messrs. White, Harman and Atkins, sub-committee on proposed Foundry Proposition.

Gentlemen: In response to your request for details concerning the organization, capitalization, distribution of stock, value of the patents, plans, specifications, patterns, land, etc., to be turned over to the proposed plant by Col. Smead and associates, I beg to submit the following:

It is quite apparent that the importance and magnitude of the proposed plant, the number of separate, distinct, yet nevertheless co-ordinate and allied products to be manufactured, has neither been as emphatically and vigorously set forth, nor as fully appreciated at it should have been. Consequently, I again call your attention to the fact that this factory will commence operations with the sole and exclusive right to manufacture a line of articles, several of the more important of which would give employment for more capital than has been fixed for this factory, which will own the entire line.

The list is as follows: 1. Independent Central Hot-Water Heating Station apparatus and fittings. 2. Combination, or Exhaust Steam, Utilizing Central Hot-Water Heating Station apparatus and fittings. 3. The "Bee Hive" Hot Water Heating apparatus. 4. The "Bee Hive" Steam Heating apparatus. 5. Combination Steam and Hot Water Radiator. 6. The Screw Underfeed, or Stoker, apparatus. 7. The "Right End Up" Hot Air Furnace. 8. The Fire "On The Hearth" Hot Air Furnace. 9. The New Long Low "Hot Air Furnace." 10. Dry Closets. 11. Garbage Crematories. 12. Repairs on the "Long Low" large numbers of which have been already installed. 13. Repairs on smaller heating apparatus. 14. Replacements of old and worn out apparatus, with new apparatus. 15. Power Boilers. 16. Chambers and Special Fire Brick.

Then follows a brief notice of each of the above articles which has been given at length in the Republican Gazette published June 15. The following is a list of some of the old patents yet unexpired: Dry Closet expires Nov. 9, 1903. Dry Closet expires August 7, 1905. Dry Closet expires May 21, 1904. Hot Air Furnace expires Oct. 4, 1904. Furnace Grate expires Mar. 12, 1906. Dry Closet expires Nov. 25, 1906. Vault Heater expires April 29, 1907. Construction or arrangement of buildings expires April 29, 1907. Cremating Closet expires April 29, 1908. Urinal Closet expires July 12, 1909. Furnace expires July 11, 1910. Furnace expires May 22, 1911. Furnace Latrine expires August 24, 1914. Warm Air Furnace expires Feb. 15, 1915. Garbage Furnace expires July 19, 1915.

The new patents and by far the most valuable issued since Col. Smead took up Central Station Work and which have been issued since 1900 cover the following: Independent Hot Water Central Station Heating Apparatus. Vertical Water Tube Hot Water Heater. System of Mains and Insulation. Combination Exhaust Steam Utilizing Central Station Hot Water Heating apparatus. Screw Underfeed coal stoking apparatus. "Right End Up" Hot Air Furnace. "Fire On The Hearth." "Bee Hive" Hot Water and Steam Heater. New "Long Low" Hot Air Heater.

It is to be noticed that there are twenty-five active patents in the above list, eight of which have from four to ten years to run. A lot of repair castings will be called for under the other eighteen or twenty patents which have already expired.

While the vast importance of this subject has, I think, been quite forcibly brought to the attention of all, the items included in this classification have not been specifically enumerated. They are:

Cast iron grates and supports. Gear wheels for revolving same and operating other machinery. Coal elevating and handling mechanism.

Perfect Health

BY THE USE OF

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Mrs. H. A. Ablebrook, of Austin, Lenox, Ark., writes: "After five months of great suffering with female weakness I write this for the benefit of other sufferers from the same affliction. I doctored with our family physician without any good result, so my husband urged me to try Dr. Pierce's medicine, which I did, with wonderful results. I am completely cured. I took four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, four of his Golden Medical Discovery, and two of his 'Pleasant Pellet'."

The Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 large pages in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Screw coal feeding mechanism. Ash handling mechanism.

Boilers from 600 to 1,000 horse power capacity for heating water.

Special fire brick for the combustion chambers.

Blowers or fans. Sheet iron air ducts.

Pumps. All sized valves and pipe fittings, expansion joints, air cocks, pet cocks, unions, elbows, tees, reducers, etc., etc.

It will be seen that this comprises the largest and most complete line of hot water, steam and hot air heating apparatus ever controlled by any institution, and includes one, which in scale of importance, will easily be the best of them all.

There are many plants already in successful operation throughout the country, engaged in the manufacture and sale of hot air apparatus; many engaged in the manufacture of hot water apparatus; others engaged in the manufacture of hot water and steam radiators; but not one single manufacturer of Independent Hot Water Heating Station Apparatus, with its co-ordinate and allied manufacture of power boilers of largest sized units.

As to the nature of the rights conveyed I can state that this company will have the right to manufacture any and all apparatus, fittings and fixtures, under all his patents which articles can be made of cast iron, brass, iron or steel.

This will be the only factory to make the genuine up-to-date, Smead apparatus, to which all the old customers will give the most attention. Will be the only company which can now use the name. Will have two agents in every town; Plumbers for the hot water and steam apparatus, and dealers for the hot air apparatus, and will also have the same right on everything invented by him in the next five years.

Col. Smead has been actively engaged and connected with the manufacture of heating, ventilating and sanitary apparatus for the past thirty-five years.

I may state that he has done more to revolutionize the old ideas and methods of heating, ventilating and sanitation, and to place those subjects on a firmly established, practical, and scientific basis, than any other single man in the world; and that in those lines his name carries a prestige and weight equalled by none.

About three-fourths of material in Central Station Plants would be manufactured here.

The present contracts call principally for pipe, fittings and radiators in Washington, C. H., as from time to time new customers will contract with them. This plant, which was only finished in time for actual practical operation during the heating season of 1901-02, will call for about 100,000 sq. ft. of radiation; at Atlantic City, 400,000 sq. ft.; at two other points where negotiations are pending, about 400,000 sq. ft. The New Jersey Hot Water Co. contemplates the installation of some three or four plants in 1902, which will call for about 500,000 sq. ft.; making from this source alone, a total of 1,640,000 sq. ft. of radiation. This does not include radiation supplied to the trade at large, or that which will necessarily follow the sale of the "Bee Hive" Hot Water and Steam Radiators.

The contracts for the material to be used in Atlantic City, other than radiation, have either already been let, or will shortly be, so that none of that apparatus would be manufactured here.

For Bellevue, Pa., all of the apparatus which this plant could manufacture, would be made here; this applies to the Elyria Plant, and all others not in process of construction.

All contracts for Central Stations now taken are to be completed, as far as the buildings and equipments are concerned, in time for the heating season of 1902-03; the installation of radiators, however, will continue through several years.

The factory buildings will be of brick and be constructed in the most approved and substantial manner, and will be equipped with the latest and best machinery and appliances; Will be about 900 ft. long, with "Elys" about 160 ft. long; Will be one story, (except the office part) and will cost approximately $65,000, including machinery.

There will be reserved for the use of the plant about five acres of land. The repairs and replacements on old apparatus will amount to about $20,000.00 per annum.

The amount of business done at the factory would probably be $100,000 the first year; the fifth year $500,000.

Companies engaged in the manufacture of Smead apparatus: No company is now engaged in the manufacture of any of the articles invested and patented by Col. Smead since 1900, and none under his name.

Competition. In the Independent Hot Water Central Heating business, there is at present absolutely no competition, for there is no other system in existence for doing this class of work.

In the other line manufacturers of stoves, furnaces, hot water and steam apparatus. The same today as it has been for thirty-five years.

Scope of Smead's former duties: In the old factory he conducted the designing, manufacturing, managing and selling, (employing about 300 men,) until the business was changed to a corporate form, and the management passed into other hands.

New plans, patterns, etc.: The general features and principles involved in the Central Heating and other hot water and steam apparatus have been definitely settled. But until the absolutely perfect and unimprovable device is perfected, there is no article now made which will not be subject to those changes and improvements without which it would be an impossibility to even keep up with "the procession." We propose to lead it, keeping all of our apparatus at all times, up to the most advanced standard.

Being an Ohio concern, doing business in an Ohio town, it will certainly be incorporated under Ohio laws. There is no disposition to shirk public responsibilities.

Just as soon as it is possible to get material and labor, the work will be pushed with all the rapidity that follows energetic, ceaseless, tireless and unswerving efforts. Should say that construction and equipment will require about three months.

Officers, Management, etc.: The natural answer is the only one I can give. As a matter of course the affairs of the Company would be conducted by a Board of Directors, and the active management would most assuredly fall on Mr. Smead; the whole fabric would fall of its own weight if otherwise. I also assume that four-fifths of the Directors will be residents of Lima, coming from among those who have direct pecuniary interest. As to who will be clerks, foreman and rouabouts, salaries to be paid, etc., I cannot answer, and I do not know that it has been given thought by any one.

Stock will be paid for, 1/4 on allotment, 1/4 in three months, 1/4 in six months, and the remainder in nine months; or otherwise to meet special cases.

Preferred stock will be 7 per cent non-cumulative. Relative proportion of present stock of patterns, etc., to future requirements.

About the only business that does not have to be constantly changing its stock of patterns and designs, is that of coloring dollars, printing treasury notes, and postage stamps; and they occasionally get out new styles, and replace worn-out dies. On the minor apparatus, however, there will be comparatively few changes to be made.

New Patterns for Central Heating Plants: While Central Heating Plants are constructed on general lines similar to all large power plants, they differ from them in the number of new patterns required. All power plants require, fundamentally, boilers, engines, (and dynamo), but no two are ever duplicates. The same thing is true, only in a less degree of Central Heating Plants. Patterns for their essentials will not require any very great changes.

Valuation of the assets of the proposed company:

Patents, plans, drawing, specifications, working drawings, wood cuts, electrotypes, patterns, and the accumulated experience, and "know how" of 35 years, are not like corn, wheat, iron, tin, lead, or any of the ordinary articles of commerce. Their value is in their proper use and management and is dependent upon the combination of their being good things, well managed, and vigorously pushed.

This species of value is difficult for the majority to fully understand and appreciate, for while it is none the less real, it is not so tangible, and is fully appreciated only by men who have had experience in such matters.

A patent on a useful thing is a very valuable asset; immensely more so, than the figures at which it may be appraised.

While on the one hand, it would be absurd to appraise the value of such things on the basis that they will earn as great or greater sums in the future as in the past, and the "capitalizing" the earnings; and by analogy, estimate the value of the new patents. On similar lines, it would, on the other hand, be equally absurd to base the value of such articles, at the bare cost of so much material and labor.

It is like a paper dollar, whose representative value is immensely greater than the cost of the paper and printing, and any appraisement of such items which considers only the cost of the time, labor, and materials necessary to reproduce them, would be manifestly as absurdly inadequate, as it would be to appraise a vault full of bonds, stocks, and bank notes, at the cost of so much paper and printing.

A measure of value which would avoid both these extremes, will be that happy medium, which could probably be best fixed, by men of great and wide experience in such matters, and the values fixed by them, will more often be exceeded than diminished.

The land is simply a part of the general makeup of the values furnished by Smead, et al. and can be considered either as a nominal asset or in its prospective value. Even a novice in Lima who is informed as to recent events can see a future in it that is encouraging. Real estate is not the important feature, but we expect to live to see that property dotted over with comfortable homes largely held by our employees.

In giving the following appraisement, it is to be distinctly understood, that I have done so, with that aim in view, viz: To fix a value which time and proper vigorous management will prove to be far under their real worth.
